U. S. PATROL FLIERS LAND IN GERMANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—American reconnaissance planes from an armored division are reported to have landed on German soil, Blue Network Correspondent Harold Peters broadcast from London today.

Peters did not say whether the planes landed in force or were unopposed. If the latter were the case, it would indicate that certain stretches of the frontier are not protected against the Allied advance.

Allies Blasting Siegfried Line

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—British troops were reported striking into Holland today in a sweep toward the north end of the Siegfried Line after a mass slaughter of Germans. The U. S. First Army punched to less than 10 miles from the German border at two places and captured the capital of Luxembourg.

The Americans, hurling shells into German soil for the first time in history, were reported bombarding Aachen, German border city and troop concentration point guarded by Siegfried Line forts running on both the east and west sides.

Radio broadcasts from Brussels said the British had crossed the Netherlands frontier for the first time "although reports put them there last week."

The crossing apparently was on the road t Eindhoven from one of the British bridgeheads 25 to 35 miles east of Antwerp.

An Associated Press dispatch from the British front said the British had stormed across the Schelde-Meuse canal, last water barrier before the Dutch frontier, after a large-scale three-day battle around Bourg-Leopold and Bechtel north of the Albert canal in which 12,000 prisoners were taken and more Germans were killed in one day than any time since the 200-mile march from Normandy.

The Schelde-Meuse canal is only two miles from the Dutch frontier where the road runs to Eindhoven.

The city of Luxembourg, coal-iron center of 58,000, fell to a U. S. column driving through the little stepping stone Duchy on a 110-mile assault front.

This column built up a strong left shoulder for the American Third Army's battle for Metz, 35 miles to the south. The units moving through the dutchy had advanced to within 10 miles of the Sarr border of Germany and were within 25 miles of Saarburg and Trier, Germany.

To the north other U. S. First Army units were within 8½ miles of the German and Dutch frontiers and had linked with the British Second Army in preparation for a massive assault of the northern portion of the Seigfried line.

Ahead of the American and British units which joined above the captured Belgian town of Hasselt (27,000) was the weakest link in the German defense chain—the 70 miles of hastily-built fortifications from Aachen north to Kleve, terminus of the Siegfried Line. This portion of the Siegfried Line or West Wall protects the Rhineland and the industrial cities of Cologne and Dusseldorf.

In southern France, French troops penetrated the outskirts of Dijon, important communications center 150 miles southeast of Paris, while other French units of the Seventh Army met bitter opposition in the battle of the Belfort gap.

American units of Lt. Gen. Patch's Seventh Army advanced to Rougemont, 25 miles southwest of the historic gateway into southwest Germany, but French troops, inching through the Jura mountains along the Swiss frontier, met desperate German rearguard resistance.

The Nazis, making a desperate stand to keep the Belfort gap lifeline open, found themselves in a narrowing bottleneck with the French to the south and the

Reds Seizing Hungary's Giant Mountain Barrier

MOSCOW, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Red Army by frontal and flank assaults was driving German and Hungarian troops today from their strongholds in the eastern Carpathians, after crushing enemy resistance in the Transylvanian Alps.

Armored columns under command of Russia's newest marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, were less than 30 miles from the Transylvanian capital of Cluj. His forces, advancing steadily from the northeast and southeast, were rapidly seizing control of the entire mountain block that had protected Hungary from invasion.

Front dispatches said a Red Army river flotilla, streaming up the Danube toward the Iron Gate, was expected to assist in a crossing into northeastern Serbia from Romanian bases near Turnu-Severin.

The forces of Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin were reported approaching the Yugoslav frontier as well as fanning southward close to the Aegean Sea.

A junction between the Red Army and Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Partisans will prepare the way for a double sweep into the Hungarian plains from the east and south, it was believed in Moscow.

The Moscow communique said Soviet columns hitting inside southeastern Transylvania and along the eastern side had captured nearly 60 towns and villages yesterday, and forced another Carpathian pass into Transylvania.

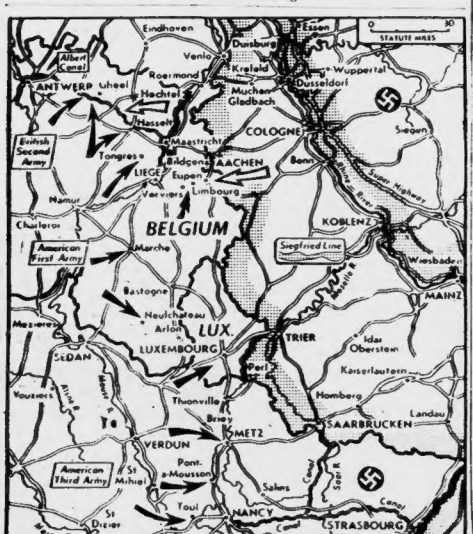
Allied Heavies Batter Reich

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Allied planes saturated continental skies today in attacks from bases in Britain, Italy, and north and south France. RAF heavy bombers concentrated on besieged Le Havre and American heavy bombers were reported hitting the Leipzig area in the heart of Germany.

In ideal weather, American and British bombs and bullets were thrown at German land power wherever it could be found. Mosquitos bombed Berlin before dawn.

The heaviest British bombers returned today to the attack on Le Havre, raining tons of explosives. Leaflets demanding surrender fluttered down on Le Havre with the bombs.

Beside bombing Berlin before dawn, Mosquitos shot up German transport columns on roads and rails in Holland and attacked a small concentration of ships near Flushing.



FRANCE—Solid arrows indicate Allied attacks along the western front from Antwerp to Nancy today. Advance elements drive toward Aachen and are reported within artillery range of German soil, while to the south Luxembourg was liberated. Open arrows show where strong Nazi resistance is being reported.

BELGIANS RESCUE DOCUMENTS—In a willful attempt to destroy priceless documents in the library of the Brussels Palais de Justice, Germans set fire to the building before fleeing the city, but Brussels residents formed a human chain and succeeded in removing most of the documents. Yanks at Gothic Line Defenses

ROME, Sept. 11 (AP)—Taking advantage of the enemy's pre-occupation with large scale, bloody fighting on the Adriatic coast south of Rimini, U. S. Fifth Army forces followed up a German withdrawal north and northwest of Florence and reached the Gothic Line defenses, Allied headquarters disclosed today.

Some Fifth Army units, headquarters said, reached Usella, 17 miles northwest of Florence and only 35 miles south of Bologna.

Farther west, American troops pushed well into the outskirts of Pistoia and occupied high ground dominating the town from the northeast, while elements of the 92d Infantry Division reached the Gothic Line defenses at Zezzera, six and a half miles northeast of Lucca.

Presumably content to wait until they get back into the northern Apennines, where the terrain is ideal for defense, the Nazis offered scant opposition to the Fifth Army, although some enemy shells fell on patrols which took Monte Mignano, 13 miles due north of Florence.

Stiffer resistance was met near Italy's west coast, where the Americans made more crossings of the Serchio river, and Vecchiano, five miles north of Pisa, was occupied.

U. S. Carrier Planes Rake Pacific Areas

By Associated Press

Devastating U. S. carrier raids from Palau to the Philippines were carried into the fifth consecutive day, Axis broadcasts reported today.

With land-based aircraft striking at Formosa to the north, and Halmahera and the Celebes to the South, a crescent-shaped bomb line is being blasted around the Japanese-occupied American territory.

Enemy radios said attacks on Palau and Yap swelled to 1000-plane proportions last Thursday, with 350 returning to the attack yesterday.

The preceding day, Berlin reported, 300 aircraft sweeping off flattops raided Mindanao island, southernmost of the Philippines and target of daily assaults by Gen. MacArthur's land-based bombers.

No American warships were damaged in this most vaunted of all Jap island outposts. Significantly, Adm. Nimitz reported destruction of shore defenses and the two principal communication links in the eastern Carolines.

MacArthur's bombers kept up their daily neutralization attacks on the southern approaches to the Philippines, including sorties over Mindanao's two largest cities, attacks on five Halmahera airdromes and shipping in the Celebes.

China-based strikes yesterday and today at Formosa, whence Jap planes attacked the northern Philippines at the start of the war, were listed in Axis broadcasts.

Fifteen Jap ships were sunk or damaged, week-end communiques announced. Six, including a destroyer, were sunk in the China sea; four in Philippines waters, including a big tanker at Zembonga, and five in the Celebes.

Oother bombing raids reached from the Bonin and Volcano islands south of Tokyo to Bougainville in the southwest Pacific, were MacArthur reported attacks on Jap "victory gardens."

Jap troops captured Tungan in their drive toward Kweilin, key point in the defense of southeast China.

The Arakan front in southwest Burma blazed into action after six months of quiet as the British 14th Army renewed its drive toward Akyab.

'Fuehrer' Goerdeler, 6 Others Doomed in Plot Against Hitler

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Dr. Karl Friedrich Goerdeler, former Leipzig mayor, described as a ringleader in the abortive July 20 plot to kill Hitler, has been sentenced to death along with six other "politicians," Berlin radio disclosed today.

A number of alleged conspirators, including high army officers, already have been killed. Goerdeler, 60, had been designated by the plotters to become chancellor of a new German government which would have sought peace, the broadcast said.

The six convicted with Goerdeler were named as Ulrich Von Hassell, former Nazi ambassador to Rome; Count Wolf Hendrick Von Helldorf, former Police Chief in Berlin; Trott Zu Solz, former secretary in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; Paul Lejeune-Jung, a former deputy; Wilhelm Leuschner, former Hessian Minister of the Interior; Josef Wirmer, an attorney.

Goerdeler, former German minister of economics, "worked out the plans of treason and it was he who formed the bridge between the militarist traitors and political conspirators," Transocean said.

Goerdeler was captured after a price of a million marks had been placed on his head.

The conspirators intended immediately after the assassination to set up a dictatorship which would have immediately capitulated to the enemies of Germany, the agency said.

Leuschmner played with the idea of overthrowing Goerdeler and making himself Reich's chancellor, Transocean added.

Tire Records Out —But, Save Yours

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Use of tire inspection records will be discontinued after current A gasoline books expire.

Along with the new A ration book, the OPA announced today, each motorist will receive a new mileage rationing record, making the old tire inspection record no longer necessary.

But hang onto your tire inspection record, OPA cautioned. Motorists will be told later what to do with them.

New A books will go into use outside the East Coast area Sept. 22, and in the 17 Eastern States Feb. 9, 1945.

Firemen Still Fight Milton Coal Blaze

Firemen still battled smouldering coal piles at the Godferry Coal Co. sheds in Milton Lower Mills today to prevent rekindling of the general alarm blaze which destroyed 2000 tons of the fuel, threatened scores of nearby homes and caused damage of $250,000.

Police and fire officials sought cause of the fire which sent flames shooting skyward to set up a glow attracting 25,000 persons to the scene.

Twenty coal sheds were destroyed. The Walter Baker Chocolate Co. buildings were saved by a shift in the wind.

Lynn Mother of 2 Attacked by Sailor

A mother of two children was beaten and criminally attacked in an alley off Summer st., Lynn, early yesterday, by a man she described as a sailor, police revealed today.

Police, answering the call of a pedestrian who saw the woman stagger from the alley with face bruised and swollen, were unable to find the attacker. The woman said the sailor stopped her to ask directions and, when she turned to point for him he put a hand over her mouth and dragged her into the alley.

Lake: How Nazis Shoot From Habit

By AUSTEN LAKE

WITH THE THIRD ARMY (By Wireless)—There was keen satisfaction in today's approach to the battle lines, for hereabouts the town cafes are lettered gasthaus instead of buvet, and the schools are labelled schule instead of ecole, for we are moving deeper into the German speaking region of France, that upper right-hand ear of the map which is Lorraine. We are reaching for the scalp of the Rhineland, and the brain that is Berlin.

The townsmen wave at us with a negligent boredom, as though our arrival is little more than a changing of the old guard for a new, for they have been a battle pawn of border jealousies for generations, and are accustomed to greeting each conqueror with a forced courtesy, so they wave at us as undoubtedly they waved at the approach of the Germans in 1940, and would wave if they came back again.

They go about their work with patient resignation, harvesting their crops, tending their herds, and cultivating their gardens, while an artillery barrage mutters just beyond the horizon. They have little interest in such words as liberation, and no faith in any conquest.

SEES PRISONERS

Today I saw masses of green and gray-clad men being herded at bayonet point by American doughboys—sacrifice units of the Wehrmacht, who attempted the suicidal task of delaying our advance with robot obedience to the command of their whipmasters. Their faces are unemotional, bearded masks, wherein eyes burn like live coals.

The majority are bandaged with scarlet stained lint, and some are carried out of the woods by German litter bearers, yet a few hours ago this motley mob was firing from behind log barricades and earthworks, knowing that their effort was futile and their end tragic. All they knew was that some central motivating brain in Berlin had ordered it, so they obeyed blindly.

There were swarms of U. S heavy tanks, bivouacked near a town where there were remnants of a German road block. It was a silent, ghostly town, where no smoke came from chimney pots, above rows of herringbone houses. There was nobody in the gardens or streets, just vacuity.

INTERVALS OF NAZIS

The town was heavily mined, said a young tank captain, who turned out to be Roy W. Nelson of 58 Sherbrooke st., Springfield, who had graduated from Penn State in '39, and was learning his dad (John's) contracting trade. "There's nothing up there anyway," he said.

Neither, on his advice, did we go on the road through the woods, because he said our armored fingers had thrust well beyond that point, but left intervals of irresponsible Nazis who shot people from force of habit, and he didn't think that taking a slug in the gullet should be considered a necessary hazard of the newspaper trade. Neither did we.

So I flushed the nearby fields for New Englanders, and found a covey of four:

GI Svengali Has Spy Plan

DENVER, Sept. 11 (INS)—Two ways in which hypnotism could be put to work for the United Nations were outlined today by Pvt. Lee Burchell of Randolph, Mass., Svengali of Lowry Field at Denver.

Burchell, professional magician and hypnotist who reportedly can't get a superior officer to look him in the eye, thinks the science would be useful in getting detailed information from prisoners of war. He added:

"Hypnotism could also be used to safeguard secret messages. Instead of putting them in writing, the information could be given orally to a hypnotized messenger, who would have no conscious memory of it and, in event he were captured, would really believe he carried no information. However, when hypnotized at his destination by some designated person, he would deliver the message."

F. D. in Quebec, Begins His Talks With Churchill

QUEBEC, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill of Britain met once more today and began at once a victory conference in the moated, ivied citadel of Canada's oldest city.

It was the eighth in a long series of meetings which have brought Allied arms success around the globe.

"Victory is everywhere," Churchill exclaimed as he and the President shook hands, grinned and began chatting.

The Prime Minister had just arrived by special train from yesterday.

Mr. Roosevelt had come in from south of the border an hour earlier.

From the trains, they motored separately up a steep roadway and along the ancient roads where out-of-date guns overlooked the broad St. Lawrence river. The cars wound through narrow gateways of the ramparts of the Citadel.

The President was in an open car with his official host, the Earl of Athlone, governor general of Canada. Churchill followed in another car with Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada.

The President and Prime Minister had talked animately for a few moments at the train. Mr. Roosevelt sat in a big, open car, a panama hat shading his eyes from a bright sun. Churchill stood beside him, attired in a blue trinity house naval uniform, a cap perched at a jaunty angle on his head and a cigar jutting from his mouth.

They talked briefly of war and victory and of small things.

"Hello, I'm glad to see you," Mr. Roosevelt called out, smiling, as Churchill walked up. "Eleanor is here. Did you have a nice trip?"

"Well we had three beautiful days," Churchill replied. "But I was frightfully sick."

"I've lost some weight," the Chef Executive remarked.

"I've lost some color," the Prime Minister said.

The President's train passed through Montreal early today and came on here immediately, but his trip from the United States was kept secret all the way.

The American chiefs of staff already were here—Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, Adm. Ernest J. King and Adm. William D. Leahy.

Churchill reached Halifax by ship, accompanied by Britain's top-ranking military commanders.

With Churchill were Adm. Sir Andrew Cunningham, first sea lord; Lord Leathers, minister of transportation; Field Marshal Sir Alan F. Brook, chief of the imperial general staff; Marshal of the RAF Sir Charles Portal, chief of the air staff; Maj. Gen. R. E. Laycock, chief of the combined operations command, and Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay, chief of staff to the prime minister as minister of defense.

Dewey Reaches Iowa, Ponders Second Swing Through Midwest

By JACK BELL

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY, Sept. 11 (AP)—A second campaign swing through the Middle West, with major speeches at Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City, was reported under consideration today as Gov. Dewey crossed the Mississippi into Iowa's corn lands for a day at Des Moines.

Dewey scheduled a mid-morning arrival at the Iowa capital, where he was to be greeted at the station by Gov. Hickenlooper, Sen. George A. Wilson and others.

The Republican nominee, who has yet to make a major farm speech in the campaign, was expected to solicit suggestions during a meeting with agricultural groups.

With his next speech scheduled for Seattle Sept. 18, Dewey leapfrogged both Indiana and Illinois on a jump from his native city, Owosso, Mich., where he spent a quiet Sunday. He made brief platform appearances at Kalamazoo and Niles, Mich.

The Dewey board of strategy was reported to have decided to concentrate on such states as Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri during the early part of October, turning to the eastern seaboard in the closing weeks of the campaign.

The GOP nominee also may go back to Pennsylvania, where he started this trip with a speech at Philadelphia, for an address in Pittsburgh.

Maine Voting Light; Hillman Test Seen

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 11—With the Governorship and three Congressional seats at stake, balloting was reported light today as Maine voters went to the polls in an election which Republican spokesmen said would determine if Sidney Hillman and his CIO-Political Action Committee would dominate the New Deal Administration for another four years.

The vote, especially in the shipyard areas of Portland and Bath and the textile centers of Sanford and Biddeford, was expected to test the strength of the CIO-PAC in the November presidential election.

Observers believe today's results may re-establish the Pine Tree State's reputation as a national political barometer. They look for the recently somewhat discredited political slogan, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," to regain its significance.

Highlighting today's battle for ballots are the contest for governor, in which the GOP warrior Horace A. Hildreth of Cumberland, president of the Maine Senate, is challenged by Paul J. Julian of Waterville, Democratic nominee and former state Legion leader, and the congresstional fight between GOP Cong. Robert Hale and his Democratic opponent, Andrew Pettis, local CIO union leader.

It is the Hale-Pettis contest that takes precedence in importance in this election. This is the fight in which the Hillman PAC influence and CIO money has been thrown into the political scales, in the attempt to harvest votes for Pettis as an endorsement of the New Deal.

Americans to the west at Rougemont.

The attack of Lt. Gen. Hodges' army toward the Saar has carried over 50 miles beyond Sedan and 35 miles east of Montmedy where the Americans sliced through the old Maginot Line.

On the front before Aachen, American artillery fired its first shots into Germany at 3:30 p. m. Sunday. These shots—fired by old long barrel 155-millimeter rifles made in the last war and now mounted on tank chasis—struck a crossroads near Aachen, the biggest of the northern fort centers of the Siegfried Line.

Later the Paris radio said Aachen was brought under heavy fire from American guns near captured Verviers, 3½ miles southwest of Limbourg. There was no confirmation. Limbourg, 8½ miles from the German frontier, has been reached by American advanced elements.

The American Third Army front still was expanding along the Moselle under a supreme headquarters' news blackout which blanketed the forward position of these troops. The Germans, however, were reportd battling perhaps hardest here of any place on the front in a desperat attempt to keep American armor from the Saar and the Rhine.

USS Frank Knox Launching Set

The 2250-ton destroyer USS Frank Knox, named in honor of the late Navy secretary and former general manager of the Hearst newspapers in Boston, will be launched at Bath, Me., next Sunday.

Two weeks after Knox's death, April 28, his successor, Secretary of the Navy Frank Forrestal, announced the destroyer would be built.

It will be christened by the secretary's widow, Mrs. Anne Reid Knox of Green Woods, Manchester, N. H.

In less than four years of Knox's administration, which began July 11, 1940, the Navy grew from third place in international rating to the largest and most powerful in all history.

Nazi Barbarism Scored At Interfaith Day Rally

By WILLIAM F. McCULLAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—By stern denunciation, by prayer, and by promise of vengeance, thousands of New Yorkers were on record today as standing united in protest against the barbaric Nazi persecution of racial and religious minorities.

They voiced that protest at a mass rally in Randall's Island Stadium, in the most stirring and colorful demonstration staged since the German hordes began spilling the blood of the helpless across the face of Europe.

The occasion, in accordance with the proclamations of Gov. Dewey and Mayor La Guardia, setting aside the day as Interfaith Day, was sponsored by the New York Journal-American.

The stage held several hundred notables as the program, conceived by Harry H. Schlacht, East Side editor, was unfolded before the awed thousands.

Principal speakers were A. A. Berle, Jr., assistant Secretary of State, and U. S. Sen. Robert F. Wagner.

Mayor La Guardia, master of ceremonies, voiced a vigorous condemnation of Nazi principles.

Berle, who gave a graphic picture of the Nazi death plant at Lublin, revealed that the State Department has evidence the horror factor in Poland was but one of several, and that although they were primarily intended as instruments of anti-Jewish inception, other races likewise contributed victims.

Asserting that tolerance is properly the concern of churches of all faiths, Berle said it is easy to talk about measures of control in government and in international policies, but it is not so easy to make rules for ourselves.

"Our churches can help us do that," he declared, "Indeed, it was through the influence of our churches in an earlier century that we have this splendid structure of friendship and tolerance which has protected and saved our country in two successive world wars."

Sen. Wagner called for the enactment of laws to end discrimination against Negroes "in our political life and in our economic life—in our factories and in our polling places."

An invocation was delivered by the Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, bishop of the Episcopal Church of New York. Then Lily Pons sang the Marseillaise.

A prayer for all faiths was then given by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who prefaced the prayer by thanking the New York Journal-American for sponsoring the rally.

At this point a greeting to the rally was radioed from San Francisco from U. S. Supreme Court Justice Frank J. Murphy, speaker at a similar demonstration on the Pacific coast.

Justice Murphy warned that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance and warned that "our vigilance will face many tests."

MISS AMERICA—Venus Ramey who entered the contest as "Miss Washington, D. C.," is today the first auburn-haired "Miss America" ever chosen by the beauty experts at Atlantic City.

Hunt Girl Kidnaper

Accompanied by Margaret E. Condon, 16, of Brighton ave., Allston, Detectives Thomas Conaty and Francis J. Hailer sought a John Doe warrant in municipal court today for the alleged kidnaper who forced the girl into a canoe into the Charles river.

The girl told police she escaped by overturning the craft near the Dedham line. She described her assailant as about 30, 6 feet tall, 165 pounds, with a V-shaped scar on his jaw and another on his neck.

Despite the bizarre features of her story, police were convinced Margaret was the victim of a kidnaper who followed her from a Boylston st. music shop, thrust her into a taxi on busy Tremont st., and had her driven to the river.

Threatened with death if she made an outcry, according to her story, she was taken out in a hired canoe, but opposite the new Veterans' Hospital overturned the craft and threw herself and her kidnaper into the water.

While the kidnaper was making his floundering way to shore, Margaret said she succeeded in righting the canoe, reaching shore first and running to the home of Mrs. Otto Sweet in nearby Needham rd., where she dried her clothing and telephoned home.

Rail Car Shortage Cuts Coal Stocks

New England residents are due for cold homes this winter unless more railroad cars appear miraculously, it was announced today by William H. Day, general chairman of the New England Shippers Advisory Board.

DEBUTANTE HELD — Emily Conningham Myles, 18-year-old debutante daughter of Mrs. Van Heary Cartmell of New York, is today free on bail of $2000 in connection with alleged illegal possession of $150 worth of merchandise from a Fifth ave. store. She will have a hearing on Sept. 15. International News Photo

"Prospects for sufficient coal for necessities are not very bright," Day said in a prepared statement. "The car situation on the railroads, Engnand, is not in as good shape as it was last year.

"We face serious trouble in New England this winter unless something is done to improve the situation. No more coal than last year is moving from the mines to our territory."

Day predicted that the end of the war in Europe would result in a much tighter car situation all over the East as many cars would be diverted to the West Coast.

A meeting of shippers and transportation men will be held in Boston Sept. 28 to discuss the situation, he said.

Memorial Service For Pvt. Valarelli

Pro-burial high mass will be sung at 10 a. m. Wednesday for Pvt. Anthony Vaiarelli, former Boston American, Record and Advertiser newsboy, killed in action in Italy July 20.

The service will be held at St. Clements Church, Medford. Vallarelli formerly lived on Morton ave., that city.

Stars to Aid War Fund Drive

Headquarters of the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign of 1944 will be opened tomorrow in the former Old Colony Trust Co. building at 17 Court st., with stage and screen stars now appearing in Boston assisting in the ceremonies.

Among those taking part will be Peter Lorre of the movies, now making a personal appearance at RKO Boston; Joyce Matthews, playing in "Men to the Sea" at the Wilbur, and Betty Blythe, star of "Wallflower" at the Plymouth.

A huge arm of volunteers is being enrolled for the drive, opening in November in 53 Greater Boston communities under leadership of Henry A. Laughlin, president of Houghton Mifflin Co.

The campaign will seek subscriptions for the 1945 needs of 267 community services and war-related appeals of the USO, American War Prisoners' Aid, United Nations Relief and the American War Community Services.

Prowler Hides As 18,000 Wait

MATTOON, Ill., Sept. 11 (INS)—Residents of Mattoon relaxed today in hope the mad anesthetist who victimized 31 of their number by spraying a sweet-smelling gas through open bedroom windows, would remain in voluntary retirement.

Police Chief C. E. Cole said the menacing prowler, thought to be a demented chemist, did not strike during the weekend. Two reported attacks were cases of jitters, Cole said.

The nerve-frayed city of 18,000 presented a bizarre sight as many residents burned lights all night in hope they might frighten the prowler. Hundreds were ready to greet the attacker with guns, ball bats, sticks or any other available weapon. Residential streets were deserted, and cars parked in the business district were equipped with rifles or shotguns.

Find Tooth Decay Reduced By Using Fluorine in Water

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11—Health officials in two sections of the country are preparing extensive practical tests of a theory that tooth decay can be greatly decreased by chemical treatment of drinking water, a U. S. public health service dentist said today.

Dr. H. Trendley Dean, Senior dental surgeon of the health service, told the American Ass'n for the advancement of Science that studies here and abroad had shown persons drinking domestic water containing small quantities of the mineral element fluorine in a natural state showed only one-third as much tooth decay as comparable groups drinking water containing no fluorine.

But he said it remained to be proved the addition of fluorine to domestic water would bring about the same results.

Dean declared officials in New York and Michigan were completing plans to stage "demonstration tests," which would require eight to ten years.

He estimated addition of fluorine would cost 7 cents a year per person.

Postwar Request: One Alarm Clock

Almost everyone wants a new automobile when peace comes, but George Zahar of Harrison ave., South End, today advanced a much more modest request for his postwar world.

George, a young night worker soon to join the Navy, announced he would settle for a new alarm clock. He wants to get to work on time.

Nylon stockings and girdles that really stretch are the choice of hundreds of women and girls but apparently a new car to replace the models that are now three or more years old are of chief concern to almost everyone.

Alicia Marie Williamson of Pleasant st., Winthrop, is just one of the hundreds. She said: "There is nothing in the world I would rather be able to buy than a new automobile; I am certain that a nation which numbers 25,000,000 automobile owners feels the same way about it."

The survey is to aid the War Production Board in determining which of hundreds of things should be given preference in postwar manufacture.

Rita Maye, Boston model and publicist, declared, "A two-way stretch girdle first and then some silk stockings."

Gil Johnson, manager of the Hotel Myles Standish, plumped for silk stockings and unrationed shoes for his wife, and an automobile and an electric refrigerator for himself."

What do you want in the postwar world, yourself? Indicate your choice on the accompanying chart and send it to the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser. If what you want is not listed, just write it in.

Stowe, whose foster father, John K. Wright, runs the family farm with the help of brother Clarence, recently invalided out of the Marines.

And PFC Joseph Martin of 32 Lincoln st., Worcester, a mail clerk, who had just lost an entire incoming truckload of letters by German shellfire, and had saved his life by crawling a mile along a waterditch on his stomach. (Ed. note: He used to hop bells at the Hotel Bancroft.)

And Pvt. Daniel J. Drohan of 5 Berkshire pl., Cambridge, who used to be a pressman for the Herald-Traveler.

And PFC Adolph E. Kurkoski of 503 Manton ave., Providence, R. I., who hopes to make a Christmas present of himself to wife, Rita (Doyle).

IMPORTED COSSACKS

There was a group of nondescript civilians, hanging hungrily around a mess truck — men in ersatz clothing, and shaven heads and flat slavic features. They didn't, or pretended not to, speak either French or German, and kept up an insistent chant of Rusky, and by dint of sign language tney pantomined that they had run for the woods and hid when the shooting started.

Later I discovered they were part of a large importation of Dnieper Cossacks, who had been carried wholesale to France for forced labor—men and women who, regardless of family, had been obliged to live together like sheep and work the local iron mines.

It is a common occurrence to find uprooted humanity in this state of serfdom, and who shall pay the final check for their misery?

So we traveled along a salient behind our lines, and came to a French farmstead of the quadrangular, medieval type, where ducks quacked in a cowpool, and U. S. medics were lounging in a hay barn. Their unit had been alerted for an infantry attack on an adjacent town, and they were sorting their medical kit to render aid to the wounded.

It was strange to think that those men in the infantry who were already preparing their combat gear with professional dispassion would, some of them, soon be hacked by things sharper than scythes, yet with soldierly discipline they blacked out their apprehensions and went about their work with methodical fatalism.

PLAYED IN DRUM CORPS

And in that stone barn with its dank odors I found Pvt. Henry J. Peters of 36 Holly st., Lawrence, a litter bearer, who used to play in the St. Anne's Crusaders' drum corps.

And Pvt. Kenneth G. Elkins of 84 Wallingford rd., Brighton, who used to work in the shoe store of his grandfather, Abraham Lebovich.

And PFC Alfred Mendez of 57 Kenyon st., New Bedford, an aid station man who transfuses blood plasma, etc., and who has a brother Anthony in New Guinea.

And Arthur L. Dufresne of 21 Woburn st., Lowell, who used to hang out with the gang in front of Dumont's variety store, and who wishes he'd hear more often from Lillian Rondo.

We went on through a town where there was an infant pear orchard, and where, close-packed under the sapling trees, were rows of slender wooden crosses. Over some there were rusty French helmets, nailed and then painted.

Names were all but erased by wind and rain. Nearly 500 more unknown soldiers whose unhearing ears no longer heeded the overhead rumble or armies going to war. And what now of international ambitions, brave Jean and Andre and Emil.

DUD SAVED LIFE

There was a 40mm Bofors gun stripped of its rainjacket, scanning an open field of fire, and beside it was Pvt. Alfred Gentile of 382 Lancaster st., Leominster, who helpeed his crew shoot down a German Folke Wolfe at Chartres, and had escaped miraculously from a 1000-lb. bomb at Verdun when it failed to explode.

And with him was Pvt. Albert Gagny of Greenwood pk., North Westport, near New Bedford, a French speaking youth who says the natives over here get their syntax all hind forward according to his home-taught grammar standard.

Across a field in firing position, there was a camouflaged 105 which had been speaking its strident piece during the afternoon, firing at distant targets which the gun crew neither saw nor understood. They fired according to plane observer's data, fixing their sights for traverse and elevation, just so and yank the lanyard.

They couldn't see the effect of their shots, which wooshed miles through the air, and landed so far that they couldn't even hear the explosion.

TARGET NEAR METZ

And there was S-Sgt. Charles W. Allen of RFD 1, Plymouth, N. H., a mess noncom who had just drifted over from his truck kitchen out of curiosity.

And PFC Edward Patenaude of Montague City, outside Greenfield, a fire control operator and former bus driver, who explained that the gun target was a woods near Metz.

And lastly; under a canvas shelter half, I found 2 Lt. William J. Sullivan of 39 Wilbar st., Everett, (his wife Pearl Clarke's address) who has just learned from his father, Cornelius J., that he'd been appointed to the Lowell Fire Dept.

Good night!

And PFC Alfred Mendez of 57 Kenyon st., New Bedford, an aid station man who transfuses blood plasma, etc., and who has a brother Anthony in New Guinea.

And Arthur L. Dufresne of 21 Woburn st., Lowell, who used to hang out with the gang in front of Dumont's variety store, and who wishes he'd hear more often from Lithan Rondo.

We went on through a town where there was an intact pear orchard, and where, close-packed under the sapling trees, were rows of slender wooden crosses. Over some there were rusty French helmets, nailed and then painted.

Names were all but erased by wind and rain. Nearly 500 more unknown soldiers whose unhearing ears no longer heeded the overhead rumble of armies going to war. And what now of international ambitions, brave Jean and Andre and Emil.

DUD SAVED LIFE

There was a 40mm Bofors gun stripped of its rainjacket, scanning an open field of fire, and beside it was Pvt. Alfred Gentile of 282 Lancaster st., Leominster, who helped his crew shoot down a German Focke Wolfe-at Chartres, and had escaped miraculously from a 1000-lb. bomb at Verdun when it failed to explode.

And with him was Pvt. Albert Gagny of Greenwood pk., North Westport, near New Bedford, a French speaking youth who says the natives over here get their syntax all hind forward according to his home-taught grammar standard.

Across a field in firing position, there was a camouflaged 105 which had been speaking its strident piece during the afternoon, firing at distant targets which the gun crew neither saw nor understood. They fired according to plane observer's data, fixing their sights for traverse and elevation, just so and yank the lanyard.

They couldn't see the effect of their shots, which whooshed miles through the air, and landed so far that they couldn't even hear the explosion.

TARGET NEAR METZ

And there was S-Sgt. Charles W. Allen of RFD 1, Plymouth, N. H., a mess noncom who had just drifted over from his truck kitchen out of curiosity.

And PFC Edward Patenaude of Montague City, outside Greenfield, a fire control operator and former bus driver, who explained that the gun target was a woods near Metz.

And lastly, under a canvas shelter half, I found 2 Lt. William J. Sullivan of 39 Wilbar st., Everett, (his wife Pearl Clarke's address) who has just learned from his father, Cornelius J., that he'd been appointed to the Lowell Fire Dept.

Good night!

Many Re-Enrolled In Buddies Drive

The Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas campaign, now beginning the third week of its third year, has already enrolled this season many members who brought happiness to lonely lads overseas last Christmas. Here is a letter from Mrs Elsie Heard of Revere, who willingly joins up again in the drive. Mrs. Heard writes:

"Please enroll me as a member of the Christmas Gifts campaign. Last year we sent 12 boxes from our home and heard from all the boys. The letters were just grand, and from the far-flung corners of the world, including one from Greenland. My own son is a Marine."

Out of her own grief for a son who gave his life for his country, Mrs. Blanche Bussiere of Davis st., New Bedford, writes:

"I would be very glad to have the name of some soldier in France. If not, send me another boy's name. I lost my boy in France July 14, and will send this box to take the place of the one I would have sent my son. I have another boy in France, a stepson in England, and another stepson on his way overseas."

From Miss Eleanor Kelley of Chestnut Hill ave., Brighton, comes this offer:

"I would enjoy sending a package to a serviceman overseas and hope that you will send a name to me. My fiance was recently killed in action, and if I can help to make another fellow's Christmas a wee bit happier, I'd like very much to do so."

The Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas campaign is sponsored by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, and endorsed by leading clergymen and social and veterans' organizations in each community. If you wish to enroll, fill out and mail the coupon accompanying this article.

All packages must be mailed early to overseas men in all branches of the service between Sept 15 and Oct. 15. Packages must be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fibre board or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard, reinforced with strong gummed-paper tape or tied with strong twine, or both.

Pulp Lack Spurs Paper Salvage

New England's wood pulp production is falling behind every week through the loss of 50,000 workers to the armed services, it was disclosed here today by Lt Curtis Hutchins, Navy pulp expert, following a six-state survey

As a result, people in this area must strive harder than ever to salvage waste paper to meet war requirements, the lieutenant reported

He explained that although prisoners of war are working in the pulp industry in Maine and New Hampshire, the production is not great because the prisoners are inexperienced in their jobs.

House Urged to Aid Smaller Taxpayers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—A House committee call for postwar tax reductions, particularly for those in the lower and middle income groups, was added today to the flow of looking-ahead proposals made urgent by military successes abroad.

In agreement with War Mobilizer Byrnes that now is the time to build the framework for the bridge back to peace, the special House economic planning committee proposed in a formal report:

1—Sharp over-all tax reductions, along with incentives for business to grow and investors to risk their money in new ventures.

2—Credit controls to prevent accumulated savings from causing inflation as they are turned loose.

In addition to these main points, the committee headed by Rep. Celmer (D.) of Mississippi, called also for economies in government, increased foreign trade, early removal of agricultural controls, maintenance of an armed force of upwards of 3,000,000 men until the occupation job abroad is ended, and increases in state payments for unemployment compensation.

The suggestion for larger unemployment compensation benefits be made was included also in the major reconversion recommendations submitted Saturday to President Roosevelt by Byrnes. The immediate reaction appeared unfavorable in view of Congress previous rejection of the idea.

There was, however, bi-partisan approval of Byrnes' plan for Congress to appropriate up to $2,000,000,000 next year if necessary to keep farm prices from crashing. Sens. Russell (D.) of Georgia, and Aiken (R.) of Vermont, told reporters that farmers must be protected.

Byrnes suggested that arrangements be made for a return from present overtime policies to the flat 40-hour week in industry.

The CIO publication, Economic Outlook, in a policy statement written before the release of the Byrnes statement, advocated that workers receive the same pay for 40 hours as they had been getting for 48

Woman Victim Of '42 Fire Dies

A two-and-a-half-year fight for life had ended today for Mrs. Matilda Vose, 53, laundry worker critically injured in the Melvin hall fire in Lynn in January, 1942.

She died of lack injuries suffered when she leaped from a fifth floor window to fire net. Fourteen persons lost their lives in the blaze.

Rumors drive me nuts!

I've heard lots of talk. Now let's have some facts. Here I am, all steamed up for a good suit of clothes. Yes, I've got the money. But I made it the hard way. Get my drift?

WE: Shoot! We're listening!

HE: Well, how come Bond's dish up such a swell story about Rochester quality plus fine woolens—and then tack on such a low price? I always had the notion that Rochester tailored clothes were expensive.

WE: That's no rumor—you're right. Suits with a Rochester pedigree do belong in the blue chips. They're made better than most—they fit better, and usually wear longer.

HE: Then explain that $32.00 Bond price—and make it good!

WE: That's easy. Bond is the only retail clothier with a self-owned tailoring plant in Rochester. Your Bond store is part of that plant. Catch on? Bond is at one end. You're at the other. There's no outside maker in-between to collect his extra profit. No round-about system to add on extra costs. You pocket the difference! Simple, isn't it?

HE: You bet it is. I've always wondered why more men wear Bond clothes than any other clothes in America. Now I know. Thanks!

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I am seeking information regarding my husband, who received a bad conduct discharge from the Navy after serving more than four years. Is he entitled to any benefits under the "GI" Bill? H. K., Boston

A—Sorry, but your husband is not entitled to the benefits under the "GI" Bill or mustering-out pay. A member of the armed forces must receive an honorable discharge.

Q—Please correct me on the dates when the mustering-out bill and "GI" Bill are effective. A. L., Somerville.

A—Mustering-out Bill states that you must have been on active duty on and after Dec. 7, 1941, have received an honorable discharge and meet certain requirements regarding type of discharge. The "GI" Bill benefits are available to members of the armed forces who were on active duty 90 days or more from Sept. 16, 1940 who have an honorable discharge or who were discharged because of disability.

Questions addressed to Veterans' Friend Editor, Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in the columns of these newspapers. Those desiring personal replies are requested to enclose self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Evil Proposition To Americans

SENATOR PEPPER of Florida, speaking in Seattle in behalf of the fourth term candidacy of President Roosevelt, made a shocking proposition to the American people.

He said that if President Roosevelt is not elected in November, Premier Stalin of Russia will delay open participation in the Pacific War and the granting of Siberian bases to American forces "until the cycle revolved again and an American government HE COULD TRUST was put back in power."

The proposition Senator Pepper thus puts before the American people is that the controlling qualification of the next President of the United States should be STALIN'S APPROVAL.

That is an amazing and sinister proposition.

There has never been such a bending-of-knees to foreign interests in all American history as he proposes.

The American people have never tolerated the slightest foreign interference in their Presidential elections.

They have never made appeal by foreign rulers the test of Presidential candidates.

Senator Pepper displays an abysmal ignorance of American history and a callous contempt for American political integrity in making such a proposal.

In addition, he displays a striking ignorance about Russia and Premier Stalin.

Russia is not going to take any position in the Pacific War out of consideration for anything but HER OWN interests, ambitions and aspirations.

Russia will never change that policy at the persuasion of President Roosevelt, or for the advantage of any American government.

EVEN IF Senator Pepper is right that Stalin will only make war on Japan on the condition that the United States have a government he can "trust," the American people would be blindly stupid to buy his participation at such a price.

For, by his conception, a government he can trust is one he can CONTROL.

And any government Stalin can control has ceased to be responsible to its own people, and has become subservient and submissive to Stalin.

Senator Pepper has made the American people not merely an insulting, but a DANGEROUS proposition.

This is a campaign in which we shall elect an AMERICAN President.

Our American interest is our ONLY interest in this campaign—and it is surely in our American interest to reject Senator Pepper's insulting and evil proposition that we should bargain for Russia's participation in the Pacific War by electing a President he has so plainly and frankly marked as STALIN'S MAN.

A Day for Shut-Ins

THE FIRST Sunday of June will be "National Shut-Ins Day" if Congress approves a proposal submitted by Representative Hinshaw of California.

"On that day the public would remember all sick and disabled persons who are confined to their homes or hospitals," Mr. Hinshaw promises.

We need such a charitable observance, and we shall need it more in years to come.

Thousands of the men fighting and winning this war will be invalids for a long time after peace comes and the world returns to normalcy.

To visit them will be more than a kindly act. It will be a patriotic duty.

On the Side

You, my son, have shown me God
Your kiss upon my cheek
Has made me feel the gentle touch
Of Him who leads us on.
The memory of your smile at a young
Reveals His face.
As mellowing years come on apace,
And when you went before
You left the gates of Heaven ajar,
That I might glimpse approaching from afar
The glories of His grace.
Hold son, my hand.
Guide me along the path
That coming, I may stumble not
Nor roam.
Nor fail to show the way
Which leads us home
—GRACE COOLIDGE.

THIS WAS written by Mrs. Coolidge on the fifth anniversary of the death of her son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr. . . . It was Ring Lardner who said, "An optimist is a guy who mistakes a bulge for a curve" . . . Have you seen a cigar store Indian lately? Neither have I. However, a Long Islander says there is one in front of a store at 134th st. and Jamaica ave., Jamaica, L. I. Think I shall take a ride there and look at it some pleasant Sunday afternoon . . . "Glad to see you, soldier," snarled the sergeant to the private who arrived a little late for a parade. "We were beginning to fear you had signed a separate peace."

CONCEITED CUTIES: Due to the innumerable artificial aids to beauty, the world is packed with good looking women. There really is an oversupply of glamour girls, many as good looking as Claudette Colbert. The winner in the competition for male attention now has to have a bit of brains to go with her beauty. Yet despite the excess of smart lookers the number of conceited cuties who consider themselves very unusual remains high. The self-satisfaction of these "too beautiful" types is wonderful to behold. How right the man was who said: "Conceit is God's gift to little minds."

Claudette Colbert

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q. What do you consider the best telephone number to have from the standpoint of being easily remembered? A. Think 1234, as in Main 1234 or Madison 1234, is the best. But only taxicab companies, night clubs and politicians get numbers like that. I have never yet had a telephone number or auto license number that was easy to remember. Q. On one side of me at the office is a man who smokes a foul pipe; on the other is one who smokes Turkish cigarettes. Is it any wonder I hate smokers and have decided to marry a man who does not smoke? A. Why let the pipe smokers and cigarette addicts affect your choice of a husband? Look around and pick yourself a cigar smoker. Eighty-six per cent of cigar smokers make good husbands. The odor of a good cigar is pleasant; like coffee on the stove in the morning.

PLEASE NOTE: Bob Hope is continually referred to by his press agents as "America's No. 1 Soldier in Greasepaint." Maybe Bob deserves the designation. However, don't let's forget the wonderful work done by Joe E. Brown, who certainly is entitled to second position on the "Soldiers in Greasepaint" list . . . From an editorial in the London Daily Express, I quote: "Italian prisoners of war working on farms in Lincolnshire struck because given sandwiches instead of a hot meal at midnight. British soldiers guarding them ate the same sandwiches. Nothing is any longer incredible. But it is at least time we taught Italian prisoners of war we do not keep them as pets."

Joe E. Brown

YOUTH: The British also seem to think more youth in government is necessary. The average age of the members of the British Parliament is 55 years. A campaigner for younger government officials says: "After the war youth will want to be represented by youth, not by old men and women who have become set in their ideas and can no longer feel full sympathy with progressive aspirations. We must rejuvenate and reinvigorate the House of Commons to make it representative of the nation."

PASSING BY: Margaret Churchill Once of the films. Now runs a hat shop in New York and is reported to be making money. That's fine. The millinery industry, which complains that too many women are going hatless, should hire Margaret as an advisor.

"Oops! Sorry! I thought it was some Germans surrendering!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1944, King Features Synd., Inc.

IT IS HARD to believe that a man so obscure and harmless at his death as Bishop James Cannon, Jr., ever could have been the object of such wide and hearty hatred as beat against this testy little church-politician who, in the days of prohibition, possessed a political influence comparable to that of Sidney Hillman at this hour or of John L. Lewis eight years ago.

He was no more winsome than these successors to unofficial power in the land and, just as Lewis and Hillman have aroused bitter opposition to their program, so Bishop Cannon, in the twenties, by his ruthless methods and fanaticism, helped to bring about Repeal.

Westbrook Pegler

Possibly, 12 years hence, which is about the span of the old Bishop's term in the darkness after his fall, Lewis and Hillman, too, will be forgotten and their excessive forgiven. Once a tyrant is broken, people humiliate him the more if they treat him kindly, a way of showing that he is no longer important enough to be hated.

There was a demonstration of this at the Democratic Convention in Philadelphia in 1936.

Henry Mencken was there, who in the hilarious years of Prohibition, had written with rapturous contempt about the old man and all that he represented. And there, one day, among the moist and heaving politicians, oblivious of the bawling of the orator of the moment, stood Henry and the Bishop, gossiping like a pair of old classmates.

"The old gentleman is through." Mr. Mencken said, not realizing, apparently, that when Repeal came, he, himself, was left without a cause. From that point on he wrote less and less and today he is seldom heard except in books of gloriously rabid memories.

* * *

IT WAS a wonderful fight while it lasted, but the present one is more important and the enmities are more real. Bishop Cannon was a political boss, to be sure, who didn't bother to keep his punches up, but, after all, there were plenty of men to thwart his law for the high wages of an amiable sin, and, after a short time, the people had all they wanted to drink.

These later conspirators, however, have undertaken to remodel the very form of the American government and rule the lives of men and there has been blood on the streets of American cities where they have tried to impose their will.

The Bishop was a cunning campaigner who didn't hesitate to use his cloth to unfair advantage so that opponents had to be subtle lest they seem to attack his church in attacking him. The unioneers of the new crusade have constantly held themselves forth as the very personification of labor and those who fight them are constantly accused of hostility to the worker.

* * *

THE BISHOP got away with this for a time but his methods became so notorious and his private business operations so worldly that presently he stood, in a manner of speaking, unfrocked in his political personality.

Outside the affairs of his church he was just another politician and on his own. So, too, Hillman has been losing the protection of the union label in his politics and, today, few native American skilled workmen would regard an attack on his audacious plans as an attack on their interests.

* * *

RATHER ODDLY, I enjoy the personal friendship of Jimmy Petrillo of the Musicians' Union, with whom one night, like Mencken and the Bishop, I was found in flagrant association at a night club. When I see Mr. Petrillo I urge him on to further outrages, to silence high school bands and to demand prohibitive fees for his gracious permission for amateurs to play at Army entertainments, feeling that the way to cure the evil is to make it unbearable. I tell him the law is with him and beg him to take entire advantage of it.

Possibly, when unionism comes under decent restraints, for the profit and comfort of the workers and the whole community, like Mencken after Repeal, I will find myself a crusader without a cause and, at some future political convention, exchange pleasant remarks with a deposed, discredited and harmless obscurity remembered only by old-timers as Sidney Hillman of the Political Action Committee.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11—Hunt Stromberg's plan to make "Blood and Guts" is a natural. Of course, it's the life story of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., and the way he took the American Army right through the German lines.

Hunt has contacted Mrs. Patton and he hopes to be able to get some data from the General, if the war is over as soon as we all expect. Bob Considine, who is writing the life story of Patton for International News Service, has been contacted to write the script.

Charles Bickford, rough and ready, will have the role of the great soldier, Patton, to whom war comes first, won the respect of his men and their unanimous support, even after the much publicized "slap" episode.

* * *

GENTLE, soft-spoken Frank Sinatra was ready to commit murder at the injustice of an article quoting him as saying "Pictures stink and most of the people in them do, too." Said Frankie:

"It's not only untrue that I ever made such a statement, but I do not even know the young lady who wrote the article."

Frankie has started a new contract with Metro, and said he knew of only one way to contradict publicly such a false article and that was to take it to court.

* * *

A FRANTIC telephone call from a Mrs. Stearns begging for help for her nine-year-old daughter, who is suffering from poliomyelitis. We located Rosalind Russell, who is on the board of the Sister Kenny Institute, and the child was sent to Minneapolis. Mrs. Stearns had heard about the good work Roz is doing and apparently knew all about the work being carried on. I understand Roz will start the movie, "Sister Kenny," for RKO soon, perhaps making it before she moves to Columbia for her next assignment there.

* * *

THROUGH THE grapevine 'tis whispered Capt. Ronald Reagan, who has been in the service since beginning of the war, may be out the first of the year. He has a wife and child and the fathers are being discharged fast. If this is true, Ronnie will probably resume his movie career in "The Voice of the Turtle" which is a natural for him. Clark Gable, John Payne, John Carroll and Richard Greene are in civies so I suppose one by one our Hollywood boys will be marching home. I heard tell Alfred De Liagre is interested in Jean Arthur for the Maggie Sullavan role in "Turtle" and will talk with her about it.

* * *

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: The much-publicized marriage of Peggy Fears and A. H. Blumenthal is at long last reported headed for the divorce courts. Although Peggy and her one-time millionaire husband haven't lived together since the Mayor Walker regime, there's never been a divorce. Peggy, I understand, is going to Las Vegas Oct. 1, where she will take up her residence. Blumey is in Mexico and has been for three or four years. It is whispered a New York biggie is greatly interested in Peggy. But this, of course, is hearsay.

* * *

NO MARRIAGE in Hollywood has occasioned more surprise than that of Virginia Gilmore and Jules Berne, principally because somehow we all expected Virginia would wed Fritz Lang. There wasn't any engagement between Virginia and the New Yorker when she left four months ago to come here to make a picture, but when Jules came on a vacation they renewed friendship and decided it was love. When I called Virginia's home to verify her marriage I have never seen anybody as angry as Her maid. All she would say was "Mrs. Gilmore isn't talking for a few days." I used my best detective methods but the maid wasn't talking and I had to get my story elsewhere.

* * *

WAS TALKING to Sam Bischoff, who is producing "One Thousand and One Nights" and he says he will be a real fantasy. Evelyn Keyes, he says, plays a genie who materializes from a bottle at Cornell Wilde's bidding. He wants her to help him win the princess, but the genie falls for Wilde and when he marries the princess she, with a turn of the wrist, creates his twin. She lives happily with him ever after. These fantasies, if well done, are not only interesting to grownups but to children as well.

* * *

A LINE OR TWO: When Rosemary de Camp was on the Jean Hersholt show a few nights ago, her sash caught in a chair at the moment she was to get up before the microphone. There was no time to loosen it and so her chair was carried to the front of the stage with Rosemary in it. It broke up the show . . . Lt. Gen. McNair's widow was in town a few days ago and lunched with Lester Cowan. Cowan's "GI Joe" is all about the Infantry, a branch of the service in which Gen. McNair was most interested. Mrs. McNair lost her husband and son within a week and her bravery is a lesson to others.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Collected at Lamaze: Gregory Ratoff entertains wife, Eugenie Leontovich, and reconciled. That's good news to their friends; Greta Garbo has sold her house to Ann Sothern and is moving to another [illegible] location; Peter Lawford, the cute Britisher, is [illegible] engagement to Lt. Arthur Sloan of New York; Dave Rose has been cut several [illegible] pretty Jane Nigh [illegible] the June Havoc-John Payne romance has been taken up where it left off, the doctor took the stitches out of Little Ellen Powell's face and she is proud of her scars because she thinks she looks like the soldiers at Guadalcanal. She was bitten by a police dog, but will not be permanently scarred. Shirley Ross and her estranged husband can't live with or without each other. They are constantly together; Bill Marshall has been offered a five week singing engagement by Harry James' band. He was once with Benny Goodman's orchestra; Bette Davis is planning a quick trip to her New Hampshire farm before she starts her next picture; Ted Lewis' friends and admirers will be out in full force Tuesday when he opens at Slapsie Maxie's; Maj. Ross Shattuck, who recently had a bad attack of pneumonia, is again in the military hospital at Pasadena; "Spellbound" is the new title of "The House of Dr. Edwards"—easier to get on a marquee; Allan Reed, radio Falstaff character, along with his ex-boss Fred Allen, was at 20th for a "Winged Victory" trailer; Ella Raines' back injury is so serious she's been removed to a hospital for a possible operation. Olivia Ames Weds on North Shore

By BETTY ALDEN

BRIGHT SEPTEMBER SUNSHINE and gay umbrella tables on the lawn overlooking the blue ocean formed a beautiful setting for the wedding reception of Olivia Ames and Lt. William A. Manice, Jr., who were married yesterday afternoon in Emmanuel Church, Manchester. The reception was outdoors at the summer home of Olivia's stepfather and mother, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edward L. Bigelow. Her father, Lt. Oliver Ames, Jr., lost his life in the last war.

For the bride's 13-year-old sister, Lee Bigelow, the wedding was a triple-header occasion. She was a bridesmaid, caught the bouquet and got the ring in the wedding cake.

Given in marriage by Lt. Col.

PAULINA LONGWORTH STURM—T. R.'s granddaughter at Manice-Ames wedding.

Bigelow, Olivia wore white mousseline de soie over satin, the bodice and full skirt appliqued with bouquets of lace her mother bought for her when she a little girl. Her tulle veil fell from a coronet of lace and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids. The bridesmaids, Lee and the groom's sister, Harriet Manice, wore aqua taffeta with organza skirts appliqued with bow knots of taffeta, matching feather coronets and carried golden Nassau roses.

Mrs. Bigelow's toast chiffon was set off by a tiny turban of bronze ostrich tips and a corsage of gold orchids. The groom's mother wore navy blue with a gold brocade belt and a navy hat with gold ostrich tips. Mr. Manice was best man.

Among the guests were the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sturm (Paulina Longworth) cousins of the bride, back from their honeymoon after being married in the same church two weeks ago.

* * *

OFF ON A CANADIAN honeymoon are Lt. and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz (Jean Pinanski) whose wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Abraham Pinanski of Brookline. The house was decorated with big clusters of white stock and lilies, and Jean wore white satin with princess lace yoke embroidered with seed pearls and her mother's lace veil attached to a cap of her great-grandmother's rosepoint lace.

The bride's twin sister, Joan, was maid of honor in pink tulle and white lavender and white gladiolas and flowerets of the same in her hair. Jane and June, her younger sisters, Doris Pinanski, a cousin, and Norma Dietz, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids, in blue with wine flowers.

Lt. Dietz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dietz of Newton Center, is stationed at the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot in Hingham. After Sept. 18 the couple will live at 100 Beacon st.

Late Crop, Canning Boost Food Supply

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

Victory gardeners have done a fine job in raising fancy vegetables, according to my observation at four shows where thus far I have served as a judge. I am more than pleased with the response and effort put in by all the growers.

Communities as a whole have not lost much interest in the food program. In some cases it has dropped a little, in others it has increased. Some gardeners were unfortunate in having selected the wrong piece of land. These mistakes will be corrected next year. On the whole, the good gardeners will come through with a lot of food produced on the home front.

Predicting the amount of food that will be available for this winter is not possible, but it is better to play safe and assume that with poor weather and increased demands there will be periods when the supply will be light. This country does not produce any great surplus of vegetables even during peace times so it is reasonable to assume that there could be a shortage.

While our victory gardeners and local growers have produced large quantities of food it must be kept in mind that this production is seasonal. Much of the local food is going to waste. Some of this waste is unavoidable, but let me again emphasize the importance of keeping the garden producing as long as possible.

Fortunately the frost has held off and there is a good supply of tomatoes and some other crops for canning. Now that the weather has cooled down and you are back from vacation you may still have time to get your canning program up to date.

There are still five or six weeks of growing weather left in New England. The crops that will grow during that time are limited, but work in a well planned garden should continue.

Our Demonstration Garden is still producing heavily and will continue well into October. Follow our program and see how much pleasure you can get out of the fall garden.

Favorite Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

A RECORD FLOW of grass-fed beef to market is responsible for the reappearance in abundance of the meat which is not only the nation's favorite, but also supplies the complete proteins, essential minerals and B vitamins so necessary to a balanced diet.

Maybe stew is your dish, or pot roast, or unrationed hamburger, or Swiss steak. All are ideal ways to take advantage of the abundant beef now in the markets. This meat is also grand for a meat pie

MEAT PIE WITH BISCUIT TOPPING

2 lbs round or rump beef, 1½ inch thick
⅓ cup flour 1 tsp salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. celery salt
½ cup fat or bacon drippings
3 bouillon cubes
2½ cups boiling water
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
3 large carrots, scraped and cut in large pieces
18 small white onions, peeled.
Baking powder biscuit dough

Cut meat into 1½ inch cubes and dredge with ¼ cup of the flour, to which the salt, pepper and celery salt have been added. Brown quickly in a large skillet in 4 tablespoons of the shortening. Melt remaining 4 tablespoons shortening in a large kettle; add 2 tablespoons flour and blend. Dissolve the bouillon cubes in boiling water, and add gradually to the shortening and flour mixture; stir until well blended, add condiment sauce. Add browned meat and drippings to gravy; reduce heat to low, and simmer, covered, for 2 hours. Add vegetables, and continue cooking, covered, 1 to 1½ hours longer, or until vegetables and meat are tender. Thicken gravy with remaining 2 tablespoons flour blended with 3 tablespoons water. Turn meat mixture into a greased casserole, and top with baking powder biscuit cut with a doughnut cutter. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) 15 minutes or until biscuits are done. Makes 8 servings.

SUNDAY SUPPER PIE

¼ tbsp chopped onion
1 tbsp butter or other fat
1 lb ground beef
1 can condensed tomato soup
½ tsp salt ¼ tsp pepper
Pastry crust

Cook onion in butter until soft. Add beef and cook until barely brown. Blend in soup, add salt and pepper and mix well. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry, moistening edges with cold water. Fill with meat mixture, cover with top crust; press crust firmly together around edge. Bake in moderate hot oven (375 deg. F.) 1 hour. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SWISS STEAK

3 to 4 lbs round steak (cut 2 inches thick)
Salt and pepper 1 cup flour
¼ cup lard 2 onions
2 cups cooked tomatoes or tomato juice

Season the steak and place on a well-floured cutting board. Cover with flour and pound with a meat hammer or edge of heavy saucer. Continue to turn, flour, and pound meat until all flour is taken up by the steak. Brown sliced onions in lard in a heavy frying pan. Remove onion. Brown steak on both sides in the lard. Place onions on top. Add tomatoes. Cover and cook slowly or bake in a 350 deg. F. oven 2½ to 3 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BLADE STEAK WITH MUSHROOM GRAVY

1½ lbs blade bone steak, (cut ½ inch thick)
½ cup flour 2 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 can mushroom soup

Rub the flour, salt and pepper into the steak. Brown slowly in hot skillet. When brown on both sides add the mushroom soup, cover tightly and let simmer for 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

Fashion

IF WE SEEM to harp on suits, it is because this year above all, changes of blouses and accessories make a good wool suit seem like a whole wardrobe. Teresa Wright of International Pictures wears a warm suit for the busy woman . . . one which will take you right into fur-coat days. She tops it with one of the new berets and brightens it with a stunning bracelet worn outside her dark gloves.

Gives Youthful Bloom

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

EVERY NOW AND THEN every woman should take a long look at her face in a good, unflattering mirror, facing the merciless noon daylight. If you are out of your 20's, it probably will ruin your disposition for the day . . . but it will wake you up to the need for consistent skin care.

Sometimes we look at women who are great beauties or personalities, and wonder how in the world they can look so young at their age. So we say, "Well, if I had the money to afford expensive facials and the time to give to my beauty, maybe I wouldn't have crows-feet and lines in my face at 35."

Such grumbling won't get you anywhere . . . but a weekly facial will, and you won't have to spend five dollars in an expensive salon to achieve it. You can buy a jar containing many facials for two dollars and tax . . . a mask which will rouse circulation, tighten up that crepy skin, and give you the same lovely feeling of freshness and exhilaration that you'd get in the salon.

This cream mask does more than that . . . it refines open pores and draws out every bit of grime clearing the skin of blackheads and forestalling eruptions.

Once a week, give a quiet half-hour to your face. It's the only one you'll ever have. This mask facial takes only eight minutes, and any woman can find that much time. You will find directions with it, and if you follow them faithfully you will keep that youthful bloom through the years, if you are still a youngster, and restore much of it if you are not.

Call up at LIBerty 4000, the Beauty Department, or write, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope, for the name of this cream mask and the shop which has it.

LORETTA YOUNG'S last name suits her . . . she has kept that youthful, natural glow which many women lose . . . needlessly . . . before they are 30. Give yourself a good facial, using the mask described today, to preserve your loveliness.

Scores Home Treatment

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I am 19, a high school graduate (high honors) and want to study to be a nurse and my parents won't consent. I have everything I want at home; help my parents in our business, but I'm never allowed to go anywhere. Have no girl friends.

I have one married sister, and the older sister who stays at home claims all my things. I'm not even allowed to select my own clothes, as my mother and sister buy the things they want me to wear. My life is very unhappy. I never went to a single school dance, because I wasn't allowed. Don't you think I'm old enough to select the clothes I wear? I also have a brother who is in the Army overseas. U. H.

It seems to me a girl of 19 should be given some power of choice as to her future life work. In these days when nurses are so urgently needed all over the world it seems an admirable choice for a girl to make. But the hours are long and the work arduous, and perhaps your mother may think your health would not stand up under the strain.

If she's willing, why not ask her to let you enlist as a Nurse's Aide? A few hours of duty is all that's required.

As for your clothes, do you want to pick out the strange-looking things that some girls delight in wearing? If you do, that may be your mother's and sister's reasons for selecting your wardrobe. I agree with you heartily, that it's too bad they never let you go to school dances.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, SUNDAY—I missed the newspaper notices, on Sept. 1, telling of the death of Dr. E. H. Bennett at the age of 95. Dr Bennett lived at Lubec, Me., a small town separated from the island of Campobello by a very short distance of swiftly running water. The "Narrows," as it is called, can be crossed in a rowboat, but you must know how to cross it or you will not find yourself landing where you expected to land. Dr. Bennett knew how to cross it in all weathers. He knew the people who lived on the lonely islands, on the poor farms, and in the little villages all around him, for he practiced medicine in that area for 66 years.

* * *

BORN IN New Brunswick, Canada, he became an American citizen and was graduated from the Jefferson Medical School, Philadelphia, in 1876. Many a time he went back to Johns Hopkins during the winter months to keep himself up to date. In 1937 he was given the annual award of the Maine Medical Society for "outstanding service as a doctor."

Dr. Bennett was a very great person. There is a slight discrepancy in the newspaper obituaries, for instead of bringing John into the world in March, 1916, he looked after me in August, 1914, when Franklin, Jr. was born in Campobello. He had come over many times before that, however, to help me with some of the children's minor ailments, and once when my brother and his friends tried to climb a rock named "The Friar" and fell some distance to the stony beach below, Dr. Bennett cared for them and housed them overnight.

We had few serious illnesses until my husband was stricken with poliomyelitis. Dr. Bennett traveled back with us to New York city, and I have never gone to Campobello since, even for a few days, without stopping to see him. I looked upon him as a friend as well as a doctor, and I had the greatest admiration for him.

* * *

HE WAS CALM and philosophical. He lived with people who did not make a fuss about little things. He had been in many a home where one did the best one could with what one had at hand, and he had little patience with anything that was not real, sincere and courageous. His son is following in his footsteps.

Dr. D. F. Bennett has a wonderful heritage, for respect and love followed his father all the days of his life. He cared for my husband's mother the last summer that she was at Campobello, and she had excellent care. If we are fortunate to reside again for any length of time on that beautiful island of Campobello, which I have always loved, I will look forward to renewing my acquaintance with Dr. D. F. Bennett.

Introduction Guide

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:
Will you settle an argument, please? A says that when you are in doubt in making an introduction, it is proper to ask a man if he has met a girl . . . "Mr. Smith, have you met Miss Brown?" B says that you should say, "Miss Brown, have you met Mr Smith?" Who is right? ALAN.

A is right. And a good way to remember this rule is that when asking this question about a possible former meeting of a woman and man, always say the names in the reverse order from that in which they would be introduced . . . that is, mention the man's name first in the question.

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:
I'm so often confused, when relish, pickle, jelly and so forth are passed to me at table, to know whether I should put them on my dinner plate or on my bread-and-butter plate. Can you give me some hints that will "unscramble" this confusion? MARGARET.

If the relish, pickle, jelly or similar food-item is to be eaten with meat or whatever the main course is, put it on your dinner plate. Jellies and jams that are to be eaten with bread go on the bread-and-butter plate. Celery, olives and radishes, which are often passed with the soup course, are placed on your bread-and-butter plate, since they do not belong with the food on the dinner plate.

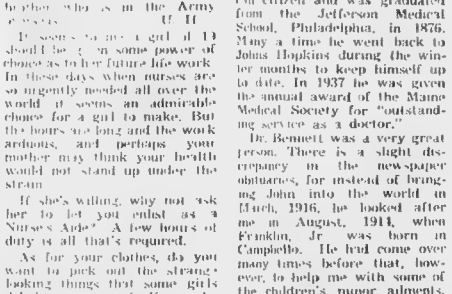
The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

A HINT TO THE LADIES! Your man in the service is "not his own boss," so it's unfair for you to complain if his duties interfere with your plans. There is nothing gained by saying, "Why do you have to go on duty tonight? Other officers seem to get off. You know I've planned this a week ago!" etc. Army and Navy wives should remember that servicemen must put duty first.

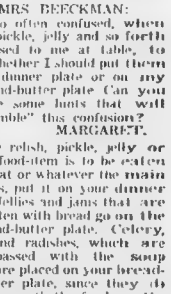


Turbans in Fall Parade

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE TURBAN is one of the big stars of the fall hat fashions. It is not the kind of turban you can wrap yourself in that the milliners are showing. The new turbans are really imposing structures, very big and draped in complicated ways. They are like the fantastic ones worn in Arabian Nights, and not like what we have seen around these parts in the past. Turbans of this massive kind, made of pastel satins, are among the finest of their kind.

What they look like can be seen in Miss Dulin's sketch. This Persian-like turban is made of mixed blue, grey and turquoise satin in patchwork blocks that give the whole turban the effect of a jewel shining around a pretty face.



Washington Scene

By George Dixon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 His Excellency Galo Plaza, the Ambassador from Ecuador, leaned back in his ambassadorial chair and began:

"When I was peddling apples on the streets of New York . . ."

I was trying to give the good-neighbor eye to a young Ecuadorean lady who had entered the room, but the above remark proved distracting.

"I beg your pardon, Your Excellency," I stammered. "I'm afraid my attention wandered. When you were doing 'what'?"

"When I was selling apples. Didn't you know I am an ex-apple peddler?"

I said I did not, but that I was all agog to hear.

"I do not know as I care to have you all agog in this embassy," replied His Excellency, "We are striving to run a calm and effuvient business joint here. So, if you will just relax, I will unfold all."

I TRUST I am not a gushing type but this Galo Plaza is a great guy. He has been here only since June but he has taken this town – even the stuffiest circles wham-bang.

He is 38, which is somewhat younger than ambassadors usually come. He speaks American without a trace of accent, and I told him anybody would think he had gone to school here.

"But I did," he said. "I went to three schools. I went to the University of California, the University of Maryland and Georgetown University Foreign Service School."

"And," I said, "you went to all those schools to train for the diplomatic service?"

"I did not. I took agricultural courses. I just went to Georgetown to sort of round out my education. I intended to go back home and work on our farm."

"And you fancied apple-peddling would aid you in tree culture?"

"Nuts!" snorted Galo Plaza. "I sold apples to keep from starving to death. It was this way:

"When I graduated in 1929 I got a job as attache with the Ecuadorean embassy here. But my father thought it was too soft."

It seems his parent, the late General Leonidas Plaza, twice president of Ecuador, made him quit diplomacy cold and go into the world to seek his living.

* * *

"It was a tough switch," Galo said. "One day I was shaking hands with the President at a diplomatic reception in the White House; the next day I was in New York begging for work.

"After getting me ousted from the legation my father sent to Europe. This was in September, 1929, not exactly the best time to be hunting a job. I couldn't get one. I pawned all my clothes, except enough to cover me. Finally I got down to peddling apples."

* * *

GALO FINALLY snared a job as purser with the Grace Line.

"Late in 1930 my father decided I had shown I could take it, so he brought me back home," Galo said. "But, by this time, he had been hard hit. But we all pitched in and put the farm back on its feet."

In succeeding years Galo alternated other jobs with farming. He was minister of national defense and also mayor of the city of Quito. He founded the first American school there.

"I had a strong motive for this," he explained. "All the good schools were German. But one day my five-year-old daughter returned from Kindergarten and gave me the Nazi salute."

Galo was on the farm last June when President Belasco Ibarra sent for him and said:

"You are going to the United States as our ambassador!"

Galo said he was astounded because he had little more than a nodding acquaintance with the President.

His Excellency said he regards his job as strictly a business.

"You may inform your public," he said, "that I do not own a pair of striped pants and never expect to!"

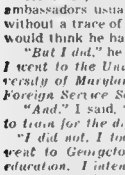
Broadway . . . .

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 Every now and then I think I've heard everything, and this is one of those moments. A little bird who nestles in a shrub on the terrace of a Central Park West penthouse has just flown to my desk with word that Ethel Merman is taking ballet lessons. Arabesque, tour jete, entrechats, pirouette, everything. Especially pirouette.



Ethel Merman

The bird says that every day Ethel pirouettes home from her lesson, pirouettes through the door, and pirouettes around the apartment (quite an accomplishment in a duplex) until her knees give out. Then she drops five pounds of epsom salts in the bathtub and dives in, groaning.

All this is in the interests of Art. It seems that Mr. Rouben Mamoulian, who is directing Ethel in the forthcoming "Sadie Thompson," decided that the show ought to have quite a slice of ballet in it, and since you cannot have the star of the show standing around like a stick (or even like a pin-up girl) while the rest of the characters on the stage leap about like gazelles and mountain goats, he decided Ethel ought to take up ballet so she can do a little leaping of her own.

* * *

WELL, THE BIRD says she is practicing like mad, and her baby, Littlebit, is pirouetting in the nursery, and her husband, Maj. Robert Levitt (normally a rather staid fellow) does a turn around the drawing room each evening just to prove he also is not ungraceful. There is even a kitchen rumor that the butler can now execute an entrechats six.

* * *

THERE SEEMS to be a move afoot (probably started by the Secret Society for Uplifting and Advancing Spooks) to glamorize and humanize ghosts. The propagandists are forging ahead in several fields. Cosmopolitan the current issue—contains a delightful story about one; and in "The Canterville Ghost," Charles Laughton plays a sweet old wraith who is scared to death of people. I'd like to see this movement in progress. It will be interesting when we reach the point where nobody will buy a house unless it's haunted.

I wonder what happened to that prestidigitator's plans for an all-magic night club? . . . I must be getting hardened to the rigors of our modern civilization, including earthquakes. I regret to report that at the moment when the Fordham University seismograph last week was recording the greatest tremors ever felt in this city, I felt nothing.

I am convinced that the two most ardent fishermen in town are Arnold Reuben, whose rod-and-reel equipment is the most impressive I've ever seen, and Gertrude Niesen, who is well equipped in other ways, too. Arnold's catches always turn up on his restaurant menus, but poor Gertie often has a problem disposing of hers and sometimes finds people looking her gift fish in the teeth, especially on hot days.

* * *

MY SPY IN CHARGE of sporting events (no, I don't use him much, do I?) advises me that those who know and care expect the biggest pro-football crowds of all time this season. Me, I'm a rah-rah girl. The old college cry is my dish . . . There's a bus boy at Jack Dempsey's Restaurant who wears a monocle, I observe with delight. What makes it perfect is his accent: pure Brooklyn . . . Haven't seen Hedy Lamarr in a picture in simply ages. What's become of her?

A soldier just back from England tells me he was surprised upon arriving in Liverpool to see that the local girls were well daubed with cosmetics. This was contrary to what he'd been led to believe and he remarked to a bobby that he had heard the country didn't have any lipstick, rouge or powder.

"We don't," the bobby told him, "except for what you boys bring in for our girls!"

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MUSINGS: Chalk up another sell-out, his second including "Follow the Girls," to the credit of Dave Wolper, producer of "Down to the Sea" . . . The former Brown athlete can thank City Censor John Spencer for the jampacked premiere his opus, which the City Censor found difficult to regard as biblically allegorical, is to enjoy tonight . . . "Down to the Sea's" censoring is the latest item in a long line of similar benefactions bestowed by the city of Boston on Broadway producers.

* * *

"GET IT BANNED in Boston and sell out on Broadway" has been an axiom of Broadway since the days of City Censor John Casey . . . Of course, the questionable (or questioned) opus sells out in Boston when – after the customary deletions — the play is permitted to go its vulgar, indecent or obscene way . . . Because censorship as practiced here invariably fails to accomplish what it sets out to do, namely, to protect an unpressionable public's immature or moronic fringe from "artistic" vileness . . . A few slight changes, and the play goes its merry way!

* * *

NATURALLY, WE ARE NOT charging the suddenly-eminent Mr. Wolper with producing an immoral play for the mere sake of profit . . . Nor are we agreeing, sight unseen, with the censor . . . With a bit like "Follow the Girls" on his hands, the money angle of Mr. Wolper's second production will not mean so much, after Uncle Sam takes his share . . . But other Broadway moguls have aimed their vulgarities in this direction in the confident hope that the city censor will intervene.

* * *

OUR POINT is that the system of bursting forth on the front pages with the pre-opening decision by the censor that a play is immoral or obscene is all wrong . . . The years have proved that no advertising is more beneficial than an official decision that a play is dirty or "raw."

* * *

CAN'T WE HAVE these ordered changes made without giving the questioned plays such un-purchasable advertising as front-page stories that the work is indecent, vulgar, obscene or all three together, with an occasional blasphemy thrown in? . . . Of course, a public which responds so willingly to the hint of smut in a play comes in for its share of blame . . . It is not edifying . . . But, human nature being what it is, can't something be done in making it more difficult for a thrill-seeking mob to know that dirt is about to be paraded before its eyes?

* * *

AND WHAT ABOUT making the booking czars and theater-operators responsible for the quality of the product sold on their stages? . . . That is the way New York does it . . . A threat of closing a theater (and sometimes the act) has worked wonders on Broadway . . . Meantime, Boston wears the cap and bells of the jester among cities! . . . It is an old story . . . Why must we continue to be the sucker, as well as the jester, of the key cities?

* * *

AND THAT BRINGS us to Mary Driscoll, chairman of the Boston licensing board. For once in her able career, Miss Driscoll (and her board) seems to be "the weak side," and we are speaking of the recent closing of "The Drunkard" . . . A New York trade paper closes a long story on "The Drunkard" and its fate in a Boston cabaret (where it was not permitted to be shown) with these lines: "The next night Tufts College's Pea, Paint and Pretzels Club presented 'The Drunkard' cabaret style, on the Cuba Manana Lud planned. Tufts, however, is an enlightened Medford, five miles away."

* * *

THAT IS AN UNFORTUNATE and quite typical reaction to the closing of "The Drunkard." Yet this department, for one – and perhaps the only one – agrees with Miss Driscoll . . . "The Drunkard" as revived — with hisses and cheers is a medium through which the basic morality of this oldtime "reform play" is made a thing of ridicule . . . Its noblest sentiments are noble today if they ever were . . . Because these sentiments are subjected to ridicule is the reason Miss Driscoll banned "The Drunkard" . . . Or so we suspect . . . Let's stop guffawing at decency.

NEW...VITAMIN treatment for HAY FEVER

Amazing hope for the relief of hay fever asthma, hives and other conditions due to allergies, has been reported by a famous professor and other doctors.

Extra high strength Vitamin C, as found in Ultra-C Tablets, offers great promise of success in these miserable sensitivities. In one clinical test, as many as 88% of the patients were benefited. "Almost immediate relief" is one report, and others show a remarkable improvement.

One small Ultra-C Tablet contains all the Vitamin C found in 4 oz. glasses of all 5 of these fruit and vegetable juices: orange, lime, pineapple, grapefruit and tomato. Think of it!—all this Vitamin C in one small tablet! Try Ultra-C Tablets at once—24 tablets $1.50—48 tablets $2.50—96 tablets $4.00. Sold at NATURE FOODS CENTRES, 2d and 209 Tremont St. and 192 Mass. Ave., Boston. Also Cambridge, Lynn, Malden, Waltham, Quincy, Brockton. Mail orders postpaid.

Wonderland Opens Drive for $500,000

By JACK CONWAY

WONDERLAND PARK will live up to its name when it opens 16 nights of racing for the National War Fund, Inc., this evening. It is expected that $500,000 will be raised for the Red Cross, United War Fund, Community Fund, Catholic Foreign Missions, Disabled Veterans' Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser and other charities that will share in the funds.

Wonderland Park has been the most successful racing plant in the world, and it feels that it is fitting that war charities should receive a big slice of its earnings. The Treasury Department, represented in Boston by Collector of Internal Revenue Dennis Delaney, gave a special sanction for the 16 nights of charity racing. Otherwise Wonderland Park could not have hoped to have reached a goal of $500,000. The Treasury Department has waived all taxes in view of the fact the money will be turned over to recognized charities which are closely tied in with war work.

Dennis Delaney

There will be ten races each night with the best greyhounds in the East competing. The Racing Secretary will be in complete charge of the placing of the greyhounds in races. He will try to arrange races that will furnish the most competition and also appeal best possible competition.

★ ★ ★

Huge Contributions

WONDERLAND Park has prepared to greet many celebrities during the 16 nights of charity racing.

Mike Kelleher and Jules Haller will represent the various charities and they will work in close co-operation with the track management.

The Wonderland Park contribution will swell the amount of money given to charities by Massachusetts dog tracks to almost $600,000. Russ Murray's Raynham dog track opened the charity drive when it donated $47,000 to the Disabled Veterans Fund. Last week the Dighton dog track gave $50,000 to various Bristol County charities.

As Suffolk Downs earlier gave $248,000 to charities through the National War Fund, Inc., the total contributions from Massachusetts horse and dog tracks will be about $750,000. The New England total from racing will pass $1,000,000 when Narragansett Park and Rockingham Park complete their charity programs.

In addition there were contributions to the Disabled Veterans' Fund by the Ice Follies, Ice Capades, Skating Vanities, Dilboy Post VFW, Callahan A. C., Goodwin A. C., Boston Bruins, Olympics and Boston Garden. The Boston Yanks will give 10 per cent of the gross receipts of their game with the Giants.

★ ★ ★

I FIND I am just about even in my efforts to pick winners at dog tracks this year. This is due in large measure to the fact I have followed many of the selections of Jack Donahue who rates highly as a dog handicapper. With Dighton closed, I presume Jack will be at Wonderland Park tonight.

There was one occasion when I succeeded in betting on 10 straight losers at Wonderland. Hap Robinson had my program marked, and the nearest any of the so-called top dogs got to winning was fourth place. At least they were consistent.

Since Suffolk Downs closed, and even while the East Boston track was in operation, I found many horse players at Wonderland. Like myself, they frequently went from the horse to the dog track in an effort to get even. The form of the dogs as a whole is good.

There is a certain element of luck on turns at dog tracks. If a favorite gets bumped on the first turn, he usually does not do so well. Unfortunately one is not permitted to delay his betting efforts until the greyhounds have scampered around the first turn.

The crowds at Wonderland Park have been averaging about 12,000 a night. It is figured that of this number each night 2000 are new customers and that the remainder are dyed-in-the-wool dog followers who would not wish to be marked absent when Swifty is turned loose. You may be sure that none of them will miss the 16 nights of charity racing, one of the biggest shows ever put on by a greyhound track.

Narragansett Special

THE $25,000 Narragansett Special will attract a classy field of horses on Saturday. Billy Ames says Devil Diver, Famous Victory, First Fiddle, Alex Barth and Paper Boy are expected to start. There will also be some lesser lights in the race, and as so frequently happens in major handicaps, one of these dark horses may come through with a victory.

The Narragansett Special has usually furnished a bang-up race, and this year's classic should not prove an exception. It will probably attract one of the largest crowds of the season.

Racing Sec'y Ty Shea believes that by Wednesday he will be able to give a definite list of the horses that will go postward on Saturday in the Special.

Bobby Doerr Returns Next Week to Help Sox

By FRED HOEY

Red Sox pennant hopes went into the ascendency this morning when it was learned from reliable Oregon sources that Bobby Doerr, ace second baseman of the major leagues, and chief key man of the Red Sox, would soon return to the lineup and assist Joe Cronin's team in its final drive for the American League pennant.

From reports this observer has gathered by wire from Oregon friends the recurrent eardrum ailment from which Bobby has suffered for 15 years, but which was O.K.'ed by Boston Army examiners has disqualified Doerr from the service in the opinion of the Oregon board.

So, Bobby Doerr is expected to rejoin the Red Sox a week from tomorrow in Cleveland where the Sox open their crucial western swing.

The importance and value of Doerr's return during these hectic pennant weeks is so great and profound that it's difficult to measure its full effect. Certainly Boston's somewhat flagging pennant hopes will be revived.

You can't discount a .327 batter and a master workman in the field. This is Bobby Doerr.

Well, the three contenders split their twin bills yesterday and are in exactly the same spots they held Saturday night. The Yanks are on the peak; Detroit is one-half game behind; then comes St. Louis one game in the rear with the Red Sox a full three games off the pace.

Rather tough on young Emmett O'Neill that he should blow the second game after going along so well, but the kid looked all right and he ought to be a factor in the west. He's got everything. Clem Driesewerd again tipped over the Yanks.

Old baseball heads viewing the four-game series were not much impressed with the Yankees. They say it's not what could be classed a good ball team. If this is so Joe McCarthy must be a super-genius for Mr. Superman himself, Detroit catches the fancy of these old baseball heads.

The Red Sox will mark time until next Saturday when they play a single game in Washington and follow with another Sunday game. This gives the Sox players five days rest. In view of their chances to win this American League flag no exhibition games will be played.

This is a splendid break for the players who certainly have earned a rest. The Sox have been most generous in filling dates with service teams when open dates occurred on the schedule, but now the time has arrived when they have to reserve their energy for the final drive.

There will be no major league game in Boston until Friday when the Brooklyn Dodgers come in to open a three-game series with the Braves.

Harvard, Tufts in Grid Opener

Harvard and Tufts open Boston's intercollegiate football season at the Stadium next Saturday, but the Red Sox surge, among other things, has kept it a well-hidden secret. From advance notices, or lack of them, one would think the elevens were practicing under the cabbage leaves. Far fro mit.

Henry Lamar has had a squad of 80 working out at Soldiers Field. Among them are veterans of the '43 Tufts and Harvard games—Wally Trumbull, Paul Garrity, Rod Perkins, Don Geeson, Wally Mroz, Dana Brosnahan, Bill Sweeney and Eddie Davis. That's a pretty fair nucleus for informal football.

COST ONLY 50 CENTS

Lew Manly, on the other hand, has lost Charlie Fortin, Junie Beers, Chick Rutter, Tony Jullo, Walter Lonergan, Alan Sampson, Red Chisholm, Nat Webber and Co-Captain George Sweeney among others and is shaping a new eleven from names like Rohrs and McClain, ends; Owen and Kirkpatrick, tackles; McCabe and Graham, guards; Routenberg, center; Kearns, Winans, Irwin and Fledman, backs.

"If we do as well as the '43 team, I'll be satisfied," says Harvard coach Lamar, and Harvard last year lost to both Tufts and Worcester Poly.

"I'll have to see this team in action before I can judge it," says Tufts coach Manly.

Well, the teams may not boast pre-war strength but they're soundly coached, and you can bet they'll stage another rip-snorter as they did in '43 for the price of 50 cents.

Boston College, under Moody Sarno, planned its first scrimmage this afternoon . . . The pro-Yanks were due back in Boston today after losing to Green Bay Packers at Buffalo. They'll hold forth at Fenway Park now that the Sox have gone for the season unless the miracle happens and a pennant lands here.

Ernie Forte Has His Big Chance Tonight

Ernie Forte, Providence, gets his big chance tonight when he faces Verne Patterson of Chicago, in the feature bout of 10 rounds at the Providence Auditorium. The young Rhode Island ringster, winner of his last 12 in succession is out to square accounts with Patterson who beat him when he was starting in the professional ranks over a year ago.

Patterson has defeated some of the best welters in the country, winning 27 out of 29 bouts, most of them in New England rings. The latter now makes his home in Worcester, moving here from Chicago.

Tigers Have Won 27 One-Run Contests

By Associated Press

Winning the close ones has enabled the New York Yankees to take possession of the top rung in the hot American League scramble, including yesterday's nightcap 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. The McCarthymen boast a record of 22 one-run decisions against 18 such defeats.

Of their 13 extra-inning tilts, the Yankees have taken seven.

The Yanks had temporarily lost their first-place hold to the Detroit Tigers when they dropped the opener to rookie Clem Driesewerd and the Red Sox, 3-2.

By winning the second game, the Yankees regained the lead as both the Tigers and the St. Louis Browns divided their twin bills, leaving the Bengals still a half game behind and the Browns in third place, one game away. The Red Sox are three lengths off the pace.

TIGERS BETTER YANKS

The Tigers have done even better than the Yankees. Steve O'Neill's men have captured 27 one-run games while losing only 11, and have annexed eight of their 11 extra-inning contests.

But for their poor showing in overtime games, the Browns would still be leading the league. Yesterday's 3-2, 11-inning defeat by the White Sox in the nightcap after having won the opener, 6-2, kept the Brownies from deadlocking the lead.

It marked their 12th extra-inning loss this year, compared to only six won. They've dropped 23 one-run affairs, winning only 17.

Driesewerd gained his second victory of the year, both against the Yankees, holding the league leaders to seven hits. Clem won his own game by doubling in the seventh and scoring the deciding run.

Another rookie, Mel Queen of the Yanks, won his fifth of the season, limiting the Sox to seven blows in the nightcap, one of which was George Metkovich's single that extended his batting streak through 25 games.

Hal Newhouser spun a four-hitter against the Cleveland Indians for his 24th triumph, as Detroit won, 5-0. The tribe shelled Dizzy Trout from the mound to win the aftermath, 7-4.

POTTER WINS 15TH GAME

Nelson Potter became the first Brownie hurler to win 15 games when he held the White Sox to six hits in the opener, winning 6-2. In the nightcap, a single by Jimmy Webb and relief Pitcher Orval Grove's triple won for Chicago 3-2.

In the other American league twin bill the Washington Senators twice defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1 and 8-2. Emil Leonard outpitched Jess Flores in the opener and Alex Carrasquel hung up his seventh win in the afterpiece.

Mort Cooper became the first pitcher to win 21 games in the National League as he hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-2 win after the Chicago Cubs, behind Paul Erickson's three-hit pitching, shut out the Red Birds, 9-0.

Cincinnati ended its home season by dividing a pair af games with Pittsburgh. The Pirates thwarted Bucky Walters' bid for his 21st victory by winning, 7-5. The Reds took the second, 2-0 behind Arnold Carter. Brooklyn and Philadelphia split, the Dodgers winning the opener, 8-4, and the Phils taking the second, 3-2. The

Fast Fields at Brockton

Nine horses were named overnight for the Brockton Inaugural Handicap which features the opening card of races at the Brockton Fair Grounds today and a majority of the field was freshened up for the Brockton meeting. Topping the list is Flag Orland a frequent winner of the mile circuits which is making its debut in the Massachusetts Fair Circuit.

If the Flag is to score it must beat such horses as Sweet Spice, a winner at Marshfield and before that at Canadian tracks and Pascoag. Ben Lister's One O One is another to be considered with Tetratowe and Flying Ned also among the winning possibilities. By and large the race shapes up as a dandy for the followers of the half-mile brand of racing.

Racing Secretary Jimmy Picariello had no difficulty filling his card for the Brockton opening. In contrast to the condition prevailing at Northampton last week "Pic" had aplenty of horses to work with and there's no doubt but that his races at both Brockton and Great Barrington, which follows, will be filled with ease each day.

Eight races are carded for each afternoon this week, at Brockton and the same sort of program will follow at Great Barrington next week.

Pro Rule Robs Tigers of Tie

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Brooklyn Tigers wished after their 21-20 defeat last night by the Ft. Warren Broncos that they had been playing in some collegiate circuit.

"Bruiser" Kinard's third placement—the one which would have tied the game—sailed over one of the uprights instead of the crossbar.

Under professional rules, which were in effect, it did not count. Under collegiate rules it would have counted—and tied the score.

Eagles' Coach Is Handicapped

Hardened and prepared after a long and extensive drill, the Boston College Eagles this week will stage their first scrimmages at Alumni Field. Coach Moody Sarno will have to see the various candidates under fire before he is able to assign them to their proper spots in the line or in the backfield.

In one respect the Eagles are extremely fortunate. They have sufficient candidates on hand to put on four scrimmages. The chief handicap, however, is the lack of assistance Sarno has at his command. This popular coach is trying to do a one-man job with a squad that numbers nearly 100.

It is surprising that with so many older stars and former coaches in and around Boston that the Eagles haven't been able to get the value of their coaching assistance in their times of stress.

The battle for the signal-callers berth still holds prominence. Among those who are in the thick of the fight are Ed Cronin, all-scholastic back at B. C. High, Ed "Lefty" Walsh, pitcher at Cathedral High and "Chickie" Flynn, formerly of South Boston High.

Fitzy Job In Jeopardy

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP) — The question of whether Freddy Fitzsimmons will be back as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies remained up in the air today following President Bob Carpenter's announcement that the club is "not going to do anything about a manager at this time."

Now a sergeant in the Army, Carpenter said, after a three-hour conference yesterday with Herb Pennock, general manager, "we don't know ourselves just what we are going to do. As for myself, I haven't reached a decision one way or another whether Fred Fitzsimmons will be back."

"I'll say this for Fitz, though," Carpenter added, "I think he has done all any man could do with what he had on hand."

New Irish Matman Winds Up Training

Patrick O'Connor, champion Irish grappler, will wind up his training in Boston tomorrow in preparation for his local debut against Ed "Strangler" White, Alabama, in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's opening mat show of the indoor season at the Arena Wednesday.

Three matches on the supporting card will complete the program. These will pit Manuel Cortez, Spain, vs. Rebel Bob Russell, Newport, R. I., in the semi-final; Jack Clayburne, Roxbury, vs. George Linehan, Wayland, in the weekly special and Tiger Tasker, Canada, vs. Tex Dillon, Texas, in the opener.
